

Diseases of the spine (2004, Volume 57)

Table of Contents

- Girke M. Editorial.
- Vögler H. Whole person—twisted back. Anthroposophical medicine in general practice.
- Sommer M, Soldner G. The human spine. Configuration, development and pathological tendencies in the rhythmic system's solid foundation.
- Girke M. Osteoporosis from the anthroposophical point of view.
- Roemer F. Bamboo as a medicament for back problems.
- Hamre et al. Anthroposophical vs. conventional treatment of low back pain—results of a prospective study. Abstract.
- Simon L. Anthroposophical vs. conventional treatment of low back pain—results of a prospective study. Abstract.
- Hübner M. The vertebral column and spinal conditions at different stages in life.
- Meyer R. Qualities of rhythmic massage and its potential for spinal conditions.